The game will start. If you are still unable to play the game, try updating the game to the newest version.The 26-year-old is yet to start a game for either club, but has featured from the bench in each of the first two matches Tottenham have asked to speak to Southampton goalkeeper Paulo Gazzaniga about his availability for the first round of matches this season. Gazzaniga has been handed a first call-up to Mauricio Pochettino's squad and, though the 26-year-old is yet to start a game for either club, he was named in the party for the Premier League match at Chelsea last weekend. The Italy international has not been capped since making his debut for the Azzurri in September 2013, and played in the World Cup and European Championship with Italy in 2014 and 2018 respectively. Gazzaniga is expected to play in a midfield role for Spurs this season, with Pochettino hoping he can be used as cover for Eric Dier and Christian Eriksen in the centre. That prospect has been improved by the recent addition of Lucas Moura, with Mauricio Pochettino keen to see the Frenchman play in a central role.
